THIS PAGE IS DEDICATED . . .

It may not have been fair
but it isn't to say we don't care.
They say they were kind now they're allowed peace of mind.
They will always be here
even to watch us tear.
They'll watch us with love
from the heavens above.
Though we shall live on they'll smile at us each and every dawn.
And to them it wasn't fair
but they'll always know we care.

TO RHODA OUR FRIENDS

Holly

Holly was my best friend since she moved to East Windsor in fifth grade. We had some great times together in the five years that we knew each other and I will never forget any of them.

I can remember all the special things about Holly that made me laugh, like the way she crossed her arms when she was mad, the way she used to beat up all the boys in school, and the way she ran around the bases with her short legs.

I never realized how much I took Holly for granted until she was gone. I got to spend many hours with Holly before she passed away. In those eight hours that she was in the hospital, I was sitting in the waiting room thinking about what Holly meant to me and what I was going to do without her. I came to realize that Holly taught me a very important lesson in the times that we spent together. She taught me how important friendship is. I guess I am kind of lucky because some people go through their whole lives without experiencing a friendship like I had with Holly and even though she is gone now, no one can ever take that friendship and those memories of her away.

Holly is in a good place now and I know that she is watching over me. I only have one more thing to say, I LOVE YOU HOLLY ELIZABETH DEFILIPPO, and don't you ever forget me because I am never going to forget you!!!
Love Always, Shannon

If The Walls Had Ears . . .

"Well, the Class of 1992 finally made it!"

"Remember the first day of their freshman year? They thought they were such hot shots! Boy, did they have a rude awakening. Leading their class for that first year were Kristin Alzak, Cindy Dubuque, B. J. Kruzel, and Sue Nevers, and they soon found out what high school was all about, but they had a lot to learn."

"What about their freshman Pep Rally? What a disaster! Wasn't their theme 'PANTHERS SWEEP THE NCCC,' or something like that? They had no idea what a Pep Rally was, and on top of that, only minutes after they assembled their scenery, it ripped in two. I suppose that's one of the reasons they placed last."

"However, in the beginning of their sophomore year, they had more knowledge and began to make wise choices. Balfour was chosen to design the class rings by the class leaders, Jamie Guzie, Jon Leavitt, B. J. Kruzel, and Erin Murley."

"Even their Pep Rally improved. With the theme of 'PANTHERS TAKE THE CHECKERED FLAG,' they managed to take second place. What a race to the finish with the Pep Rally and a beginning to the growth of the class."

"If you thought that year was good, you should have seen their Junior year, led by Jon Leavitt, Cindy Dubuque, April Garner, and Jody Grant. They started the year off with a bang, taking first place in the Pep Rally with the theme 'PANTHERS BULLY THE NCCC.' Although they forgot a major prop, the knowledge they gained from past Pep Rallies carried them through to their success."

"That year they also had added responsibilities, such as choosing Grassmere's Country Club as the location of their Junior Prom, which was a blast! They danced the night away to their theme song, 'OPEN ARMS,' which was led by Kevin McKeever and Shannon Healy, who were crowned King and Queen."

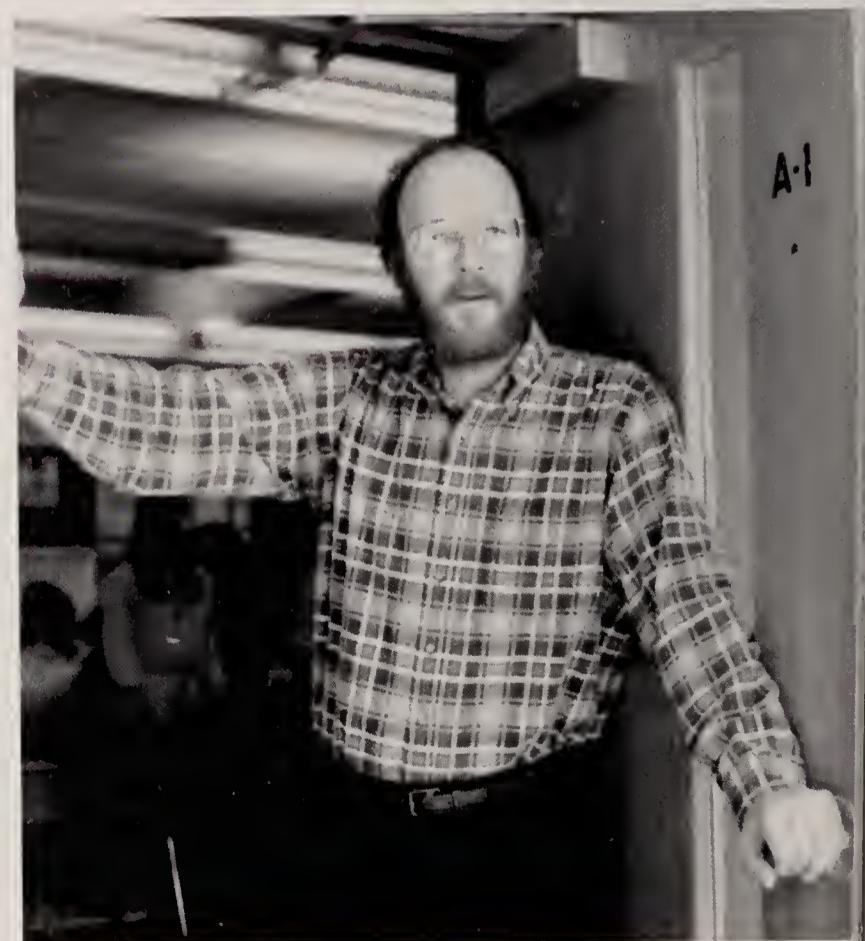

"The final year of the Class of 1992 began with a successful magazine drive run by class leaders, Jon Leavitt, Cindy Dubuque, Shannon Healy, and Jody Grant. The theme of the Pep Rally was 'PANTHERS SEIZE THE NCCC' and the Springfield Coliseum was chosen as the location of the Senior Banquet."

BEST FRIEND

You give me strength, you give me direction, you help me along. You put my life back into perspective when everything's wrong. I know who's the only one who really understands; you are always there with me to lend a helping hand. 'Cause you are my best friend, and I will stay by you 'til the end. 'Cause you are my best friend, and I will stay by you 'til the end. There is something I never told you I think you should know. When I am troubled, you make me feel special by letting me grow. I know that the time will come to go our sep'rate ways; you'll still be my special song, I'll sing you ev'ry day. 'Cause you are my best friend, and I will stay by you 'til the end. 'Cause you are my best friend, and I will stay by you 'til the end. I'll stay by you 'til the end.

WITHOUT YOU

TO:

HOLLY

I visit the place you rest
All quiet and serene.
The loneliness falls down myself
And I realize how much I miss you.
I know you're happy in Heaven
watching over all our mistakes.
But, without you here, something
Is always different — Old things are hard, new things are impossible.
I try not to cry, but sometimes
the tears just fall.
Now I visit "your" place
All quiet and serene,
Leave pink roses, and talk to you
As if you're still here.
As the loneliness lifts, I realize
You're in a heavenly place —
But I miss you just the same.

— Connie Larson

Looking Back

Freshman year we were new, all scared of what was to come.
Days went by and we lost Holly
her memory will last forever.
Sophomore year we grew stronger
we got our rings and a little class.
But then we lost Rhoda and Christine that day I will never forget.
Junior year brought Joy and cheer
then someone else was gone, Mark,
May he rest in peace.
Later that year we had a rockin' prom
and then the big day!!
We switched seats over to the senior section.
Senior year and we own the place,
no one's gone and a smile's on my face.
Soon we'll be right back where we started.
Wondering what's next. When you feel a little lost with nowhere to go, give an old high school friend a call and spend a minute to look back.
Because now that we've overcome all of our obstacles in high school, you'll be able to win with life

— Heidi Yount

The first year of the EW/WL Co-op wrestling program drew interest with sixteen athletes participating. The team captains, Jamie Guzie (7-6) and Corey Stucklen (6-3), had their hands full leading the young and inexperienced team. Despite a 1-14 record, Coach Olson lost 6 matches by one individual match.

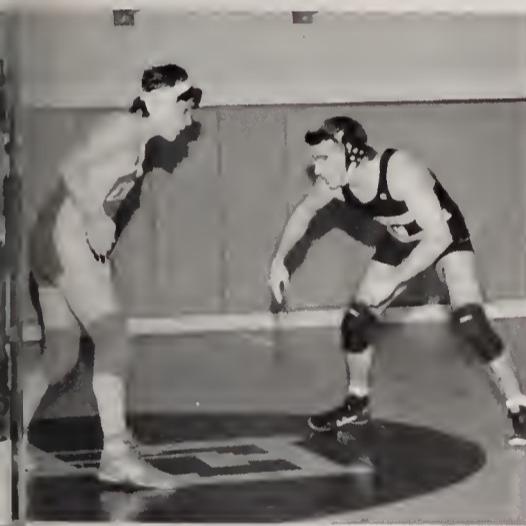

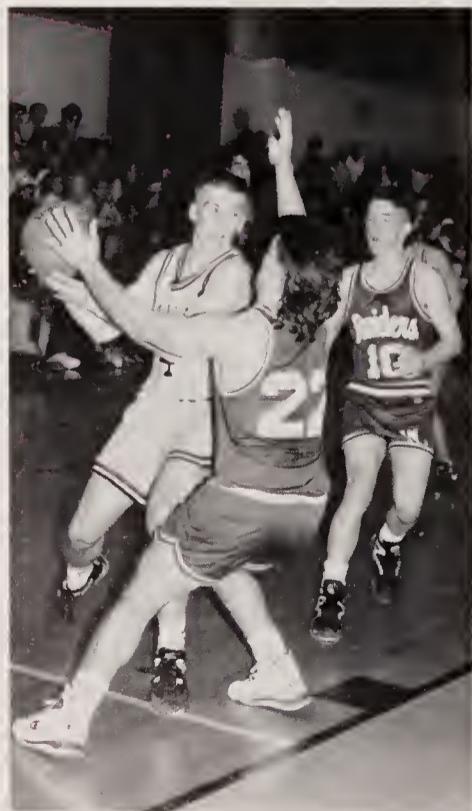

Seniors Corey Stucklen, Jamie Guzie and Jerry Mason placed third in the Terryville Holiday Classic Tournament. Jamie also placed third in the NCCC conference.

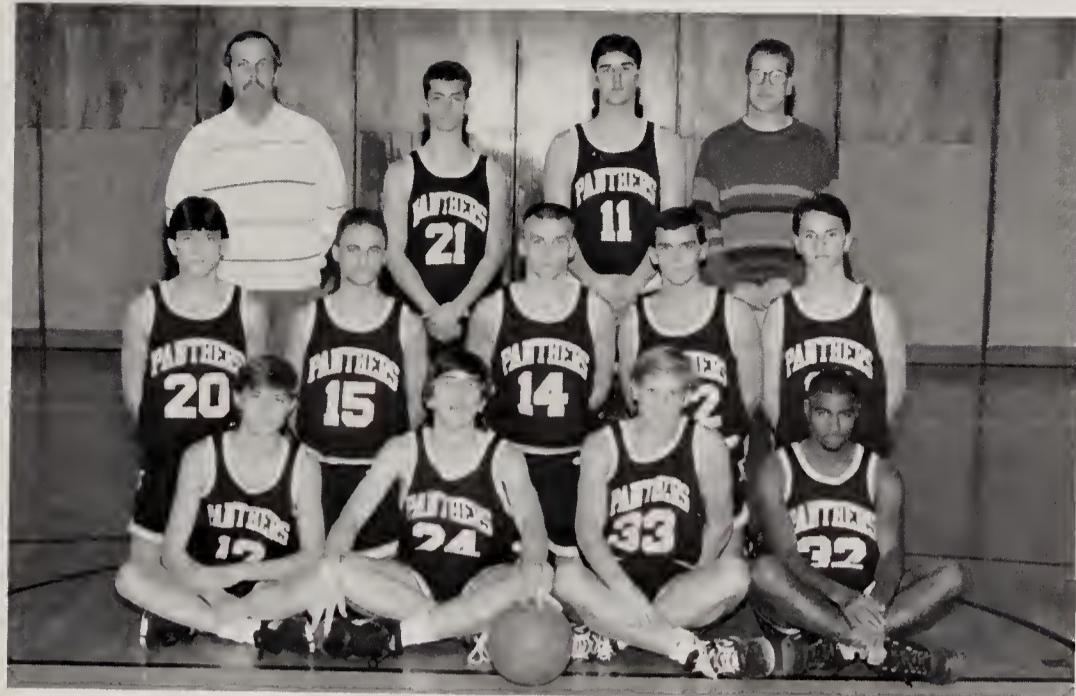

Coach Olson expects a better season next year with returning wrestlers: Jon Schnobrich (103 lbs.), Lynette Gorham (112 lbs.), Mike Middleton (125 lbs.), Jim DesRocher (130 lbs.), Jim Bancroft (140 lbs.), T. J. DesRocher (140 lbs.) and Bryan Myers (160 lbs.).

Congratulations class of '92

Written Especially for the Class of '92 . . .

Finding your dreams is through the power and imagination of your mind, heart and soul. And if your dream is ever shattered, have the courage to pick up the pieces. You are the artist . . . live a life designed by you, for you. Choose a career and lifestyle that interests you. Work hard to make it a success. Life is a series of new challenges, hopes and change. Have a positive attitude because it will affect the outcome. Class of '92, envision today as a gift. Opportunities aren't delivered by Federal Express, you have to put time and effort to look for them. Reach out and find wisdom, and the inner strength to look forward to tomorrow. Life is a series of beginnings and endings. Sense the warmth of success because it is within your reach. Sometimes we lose before we win and we cry before we smile. You will overcome many obstacles: your first "major" job interview and your resumé is not finished; your first apartment and they send the same bills every month (and don't ever forget), or the insurance people were unamused with your second car accident and cancelled your policy. You will go against the judgement of many people in order to bypass their prejudices. Make a triumph of every aspect of your life. Take time for people and for yourself, you will discover new dimensions of your personality. See beauty where others don't. Tell the people you love that you do, and often. Feel, and feel deeply. Offer understanding to someone going through a difficult time. Increase your capacity to love. Practice patience because words spoken can cut like a knife. Soft spoken truth will bring you further than belligerence. Overcome resentments. Learn to laugh at yourself. Class of '92, celebrate life, each and every day . . . Take chances. Try new things. Dare to be different. Troubles are temporary and relationships aren't always permanent. Don't ever let go of hope. Hope gives you the strength to keep going. The richness in our lives is not measured by the jewelry we own or the car we drive but by what's inside, our feelings. Don't hesitate to reach for help if you need it. Don't surrender. Life is not a dress rehearsal, this is the real thing. Learn from your mistakes because many times there will not be a second chance. You have the power within you to make the right choices and to give your dream life. Then Class of '92, share it with the world!

Don't ever let your dreams disappear with age!

Grandma — Thank you for everything you taught me about life.

Nana & Grampy — How can I ever repay you for all you've done for me?

Mom & Dad — It's been rough but we made it and I hope I can make you proud of me someday.

Gail & Mary — My two sisters — Thanks for all of the talks and good times. It was definitely interesting sharing a room with both of you. Gail — "MINE! MINE! . . . YOURS!!!"
